SUNY Cortland's College-Community Orchestra will perform classical music by the composers Fauré, Handel, Sibelius and Verdi, on Tuesday, Nov. 18, at the College.

Presented by the Performing Arts Department, the concert titled "Tell Me a Story" will begin at 8 p.m. in the Dowd Fine Arts Center Theatre.
The event is free and open to the public.

Ubaldo Valli, a SUNY Cortland lecturer of performing arts, will conduct the orchestra.
The Choral Union, an ensemble under the musical direction of David Neal, professor of performing arts, will join the concert to sing choruses from Handel's Messiah.

1989-2014 Berlin Wall to Ukraine. From Cold War to Cold War?

Lecture by Ionut Lacusta, Career Diplomat and Foreign Policy Advisor; MA in Public Administration candidate, John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University

Sponsored by the International Studies Program, the Clark Center for International Education, Project on Eastern and Central Europe (PECE), Department of Political Science, and

a grant from the Campus Artist and Lecture Series (CALS)

Date: Nov. 20
Location: Moffett Center, Rm. 2125, 4:30 - 5:30 p.m.

Reception to follow in Moffett Lobby @ 5:45
Everyone is welcome

2014 marks 25 years since the fall of the Berlin Wall and the end of Communism in Central and Eastern Europe. Our guest speaker will discuss the changes that occurred in Central and Eastern Europe in the last quarter of a century. Ionut Lacusta is a Romanian career diplomat and former policy advisor with the offices of a legislative speaker and the head of state. In addition to foreign policy, he covered energy security and infrastructure development with national and EU institutions. He is a graduate of the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service and is currently pursuing a degree at the Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University.

Working as an International Diplomat

Lecture by Ionut Lacusta, Career Diplomat and Foreign Policy Advisor; MA in Public Administration candidate, John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University

Sponsored by the International Studies Program, the Clark Center for International Education, Project on Eastern and Central Europe (PECE), Department of Political Science, and a grant from the Campus Artist and Lecture Series (CALS)

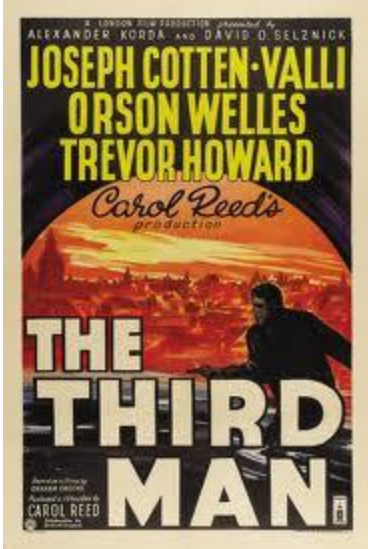

Date: Nov. 21
Location: Old Main, Rm. 230, 12:45 - 1:45 p.m.

Ionut Lacusta will share his experience as an international diplomat. What do you need to become a diplomat? What should you focus on in your college years? What tools do you need in your toolset to achieve this dream? What is it like to work as a diplomat? What are the challenges and what are the benefits?

Ionut Lacusta, an Eastern European diplomat, will share his experience with SUNY Cortland students interested in diplomacy.

The Third Man (1958), Post-WWII “Rubble” Film Series

Date: Nov. 18
Location: Sperry Center, Rm. 104, 7p.m

In this Cold War spy classic, Holly Martins, a third-rate American pulp novelist, arrives in postwar Vienna, where he has been promised a job by his old friend Harry Lime. Upon his arrival, Martins discovers that Lime has been killed in a traffic accident, and that his funeral is taking place immediately. When Martins is told that the late Harry Lime was a thief and murderer, the loyal Martins is at first outraged. Gradually, he discovers the truth about Harry Lime and who "The Third Man" is.

Transcendences: Dowd Gallery Exhibition

Sponsored by: Dowd Gallery, Clark Center for International Education, International Programs Office

Date: The exhibit will be on

The Dowd Gallery will present Transcendences, an exhibition of panels, drawings and sculpture by Diana Al-Hadid and video-still chromogenic prints by Wang Gongxin and Lin Tianmiao from October 22-December 10.
Diana Al-Hadid was born in Aleppo Syria, raised in Cleveland, OH, and currently lives and works in Brooklyn, NY. Her works featured in the show, created from 2011 display until December 10.

to 2014, appear to transcend time in material and form.

The series of large-scale video-still prints from the "Here? Or There?" video installation by Wang Gongxin and Lin Tianmiao alternates between depictions of a rational and a spiritual world. "Here? Or There?" was created for the 2002 Shanghai Biennale and was generously donated by them to SUNY Cortland in May, 2014, when Wang Gongxin was awarded an honorary degree from the college. He also attended SUNY Cortland in the 1980s as a visiting scholar from Capital Normal University in Beijing.

The People's Congress of Colombia: Organizing for a Voice at the Peace Table

Lecture by Colombian Marylen Serna, Spokesperson for the Colombian People's Congress; leader, Small Farmers Movement of Colombia

The talk is sponsored by a CALS grant, Latino-Latin American Studies Program, CEPS, and the departments of Modern Languages and Geography

Date: Nov. 19
Location: 12 p.m. (Jacobus Lounge, Brockway Hall) & 4:30 p.m. Sperry 205

Marylen Serna is a national spokesperson for the Colombian Congreso de los Pueblos or People's Congress, and is a leader of the Movimiento Campesino de Colombia (Small Farmers Movement of Colombia). She will speak on positive organizational strategies and the involvement of civil society in the peace talks currently underway in Colombia. The People's Congress is successfully bringing together diverse groups within Colombia (indigenous, campesino, AfroColombian, students, and urban sectors), and this in turn is having a major impact not only on the peace talks but on the future direction of Colombian society.

Bringing the World to Cortland and Cortland to the World: An International and Study Abroad Student Panel

Panel sponsored by the International Awareness Club, the Model United Nations Club, and the International Programs Office

Date: Nov. 24

Location: Old Main 220-Colloquium, 4:30pm

This event will start with a reception at 4:30 p.m., followed by a panel of international students and students who have studied abroad all over the world! We will discuss comparisons in education and cultural differences between their home countries and where they have traveled. Come with questions and stories of your own intercultural experiences for the Q&A session following the presentation!
The winners of the SUNY Cortland Study Abroad Photo Contest will be announced during the reception. This event is co-sponsored by the International Programs Office.

Boren Awards for International Study

Boren Scholarships and Fellowships – for Undergraduate and Graduate Students

Boren Awards provide unique funding opportunities for U.S. undergraduate and graduate students to study in Africa, Asia, Central & Eastern Europe, Eurasia, Latin America, and the Middle East, where they can add important international and language components to their educations.
Boren Scholars and Fellows represent a variety of academic backgrounds, but all are interested in studying less commonly taught languages, including but not limited to Arabic, Chinese, Korean, Portuguese, Russian, and Swahili. As part of the African Languages Initiative, Boren Award applicants have the opportunity to further their study of Akan/Twi, French, Hausa, Portuguese, Swahili, Wolof, Yoruba, or Zulu. For a complete list of languages, visit the Boren website.
Undergraduate students can receive up to $20,000 for an academic year's study abroad and graduate students up to $30,000 for language study and international research. In exchange for funding, recipients commit to working in the federal government for a minimum of one year.

For more information, visit http://www.borenawards.org.

DL: January 27, 2014 (Graduate)
Boren Scholarship DL: Feb. 4, 2015 (Undergraduate)
